

Calming Pellets™

Anxious, spooky, unfocused and generally upbeat horses can impact attitude and performance in the barn, during training, in the pasture, and at competitions.

All natural Calming Pellets™ is designed to provide key ingredients that promotes a sense of relaxation and mental alertness without drowsiness.

Calming Pellets was the winner of the 2013 Good Horsekeeping Calmer Challenge!

Calming Pellets contain the proper ratio of three key ingredients that help equines cope with external stresses, support balanced behavior and help keep your horse focused and alert during training and competition.

- Magnesium - essential mineral important for normal neuromuscular function, including nerve conduction
- Vitamin B-1 - critical for energy metabolism and transmission of nerve impulses.
- Inositol - assists with fat transport and nerve transmission.

Contains no tryptophan or herbals that may result in unwanted side effects.

Incorporate Calming Pellets into your equine athletes feeding regimen to support normal emotional balance and help maintain a normal and relaxed disposition.
